SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA — THURSDAY, JULY 31, 1958

12 PAGES — Vol. 51, No. 42

SEVERAL DOZEN youngsters turned out last week for the pet show sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department here. Among pets entered were a skunk, a turtle and a tarantula, which, despite tales to the contrary, is a shy, relatively harmless creature. The winners are, from left, Sharon Tyree, who entered the best-groomed animal, a boxer pup with his "ears up"; Beverly Roome, smallest pet, a turtle; Claude Fritz, most unusual, a skunk; Robert Paige, cocker spaniel pup, grand prize; Wendy Rogers, best behaved, a cat in a cage, and Dolores Schramm, biggest, a collie.

Tennis Clinic Starts Aug. 2 In Local Park

A tennis clinic sponsored by the Sierra Madre Recreation Department will be held at the tennis courts in Memorial Park on Saturday mornings from 8 to 12 beginning this Saturday, Aug. 2, and ending Sept. 6. The city has employed Dale Daniels, tennis instructor of the Arcadia Recreation Department, to conduct the six-week program which is open to Sierra Madre adults, and to children above the sixth grade in school. Registration will be at the tennis courts on Friday, Aug. 1, between 4 and 6 p.m. Instruction is free, and tennis balls will be supplied. Those participating must furnish their own rackets.

Noel Quinn To Exhibit In Library

A watercolor exhibit by Noel Quinn will be in the Sierra Madre Library gallery room during August. Bill Palmer, chairman of the Exhibits Committee, Friends of the Library, announced yesterday.

The exhibit will open with a reception for the artist and the public on Aug. 6 from 8 to 1 p.m. at the gallery.

Quinn, upon graduation from the Rhode Island School of Design, was awarded a fellowship for post-graduate study in Paris, France. He studied at the Parsons School of Fine and Applied Arts and at the Ecole des Beaux Arts. Among prizes he has won are the Hallmark International Award for 1952, and the California Watercolor Society's Cole of California Purchase Award in 1951.

He is a member of the American Watercolor Society, the California Watercolor Society, Society of Motion Picture Illustrators and the National Society of Art Directors.

Arcadia All-Stars Are Champs

The Arcadia Babe Ruth All-Stars, who eliminated Sierra Madre in the play-offs on July 20, defeated the Temple City All-Stars, 4-1, to win the Southern Region Championship at Arcadia Park last Sunday before a crowd of 600.

They will play in the state finals at Wrigley Field this weekend.

The local Babe Ruth leaguers at least have the satisfaction of knowing they were beaten by the "champs" and this may make them feel a little better.

Jackson Feted at Kiwanis Luncheon

Going-away ceremonies for Dr. Lowell D. Jackson, superintendent of schools here, were held by the Kiwanis Club at the group's Tuesday luncheon.

Dr. Jackson, who resigned to accept an associate professorship in education at the University of Hawaii, was presented a brightly colored straw hat.

Search Started for New School Head

Local Teacher May Get Top Post

A public hearing on the school budget, the problem of annexation with Pasadena and other issues suddenly became secondary this week with the resignation of Superintendent of Schools Dr. Lowell D. Jackson.

The Board must now find a new superintendent—and time is short. Members are expected to explore this problem at their meeting Aug. 4.

Kenneth Bush, School Board president, contacted C. C. Carpenter of the County Superintendent of Schools office, requesting him to set up a screening process.

BEFORE TAKING this action, Bush polled all School Board members except one, Arthur Albertson, who was out of town when Dr. Jackson announced his resignation.

Finding a superintendent at this late date may not be easy, since most administrators already are starting to work on the new school year.

One school spokesman said it may be necessary to appoint a temporary superintendent, perhaps from within the elementary district itself, to succeed Dr. Jackson until a permanent successor can be named.

This possibility also is likely to be explored at the Board meeting Monday.

Dr. Jackson, whose contractual term had three more years to run, resigned to accept an appointment as associate professor of education at the University of Hawaii.

Although his resignation was effective the end of July, he agreed to attend the August Board meeting.

Also on the Board agenda Monday will be a public hearing on the new school budget, which was adopted by the Board at the last session.

MEANWHILE, the prospects that the local School Board will take action in the near future to annex its elementary district to Pasadena appears dim.

Lenore Barrett Is Coordinator For Judge Mosk

Mrs. Lenore Barrett, 425 N. Canon, has been appointed Southern California coordinator for the "Judge Stanley Mosk for Attorney General" campaign.

Judge Mosk received a million and a quarter votes in the recent primary, 460,000 more than his opponent, Pat Hillings. He has been endorsed by bar leaders, organized labor, all California Democratic congressmen, and by the present attorney general who is running for governor, Pat Brown.

Mrs. Barrett also worked in the primary campaign for Judge Mosk.

Final Hollywood Bowl Trip Is Scheduled Aug. 29

Bus-to-Bowl trips have been highly successful this year, with capacity crowds in every trip. Mrs. Kenneth Bush, Hollywood Bowl Committee chairman, said yesterday.

Two buses for the Van Cliburn concert tonight are booked to capacity, she said, as were two that left for the Bowl last night (Wednesday).

The final bus-to-bowl concert will feature Nat "King" Cole on Friday night, Aug. 29. This will be sponsored by the Civic Club, with Lee Crehan as chairman.

Those interested in attending the family night Disney program on Aug. 1 may contact Mrs. Gordon MacDonald at ELgin 5-7856.

Choice of Councilman Faces City Fathers

Speculation arose this week over the appointment of a new councilman to replace Dr. David Wood who resigned to take a temporary teaching job at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Wood's resignation is effective Aug. 13, which means the Council must either appoint a successor within 30 days of that date or order a special election.

ALTHOUGH WOOD'S term still has three more years to run, the possibility of holding a special election appears dim. In the past the Council has always made appointments to fill unexpired terms.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said that so far the Council has not discussed the matter, but it is expected to come up at the meeting Aug. 12 or at a special meeting called by the Council to discuss personnel.

Appointments frequently have been made from city commissions, since the Council normally looks for a man who has displayed some interest in city affairs.

THERE IS a possibility, of course, that the new appointee may be chosen from among the unsuccessful candidates during the last councilmanic election, at which Frank Parks came in fourth and James McCoy, fifth, only a few votes behind.

The Council must also appoint a successor to John Redlon, who resigned as chairman of the Planning Commission.

Bethany Bible School Youth to Parade Saturday

This Saturday at 10 a.m. the young people of Bethany Church will meet for their pre-Bible School parade.

Leaving from the church they will march down Baldwin to Sierra Madre Blvd., and west to Hermosa, returning over the same route to the church where they will have a rally and pre-registration. Main feature of the rally, from 10:30 to 11, will be Stan Moyer, magician.

Vacation Bible School will begin on Monday morning, Aug. 4, at 9 o'clock and run till 11:30 a.m. daily, through Aug. 15. A capable staff has been preparing the hand-crafts and lessons which are centered around the theme, Bible Sea Adventures. All children through the sixth grade are invited.

No Grace Period for Postal Rates

Sorry, but the Post Office Department says there'll be no free loading of mail at the old postal rates after July 31.

Not even for one minute. The nation's new schedule of postal rates goes into effect Friday, Aug. 1. And the Post Office Department is out to squelch rumors that it won't enforce the higher charges immediately and will permit a grace period for the public to get used to the changes.

to obey the letter of the law, a spokesman said, and this means letters mailed after midnight, July 31, must bear postage at the higher rates.

If not, the Post Office will handle the letter on a postage due basis with the recipient being asked to fork over an extra penny. If nobody pays, then the letter is dispatched to the dead letter office.

BESIDES the boost in the 3-cent stamp, the new rate scheduled for domestic first-class mail will raise the price for postcards from 2 cents to 3 cents, for air mail letters from 6 cents to 7 cents and for all mail postcards from 4 cents to 5 cents.

Rates for drop letters in small communities which don't have pickup or delivery service will advance from 2 to 3 cents.

There also will be various increases in commercial and foreign types of mail.

Hansen Is Named 1st Pastor

The mission developer who has been serving Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church of Sierra Madre and Arcadia since its beginning last autumn, the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, has accepted the call to become the first pastor of the newly organized congregation.

By a unanimous vote of the congregation, which now numbers 144, Pastor Hansen was urged to remain with the church.

"THE CALL is appreciated and we look forward to many years of building the Kingdom of God in this blessed community," he said.

He is resigning as a mission developer for the Board of American Missions to become pastor of Shepherd of the Hills.

The mission held its first service on Reformation Sunday, Oct. 27, 1957, in the Upper Room of the Woman's Club, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and has worshipped there since. Negotiations are now under way to purchase a church site.

Organizations include Sunday School at 9 a.m., a 15-man Church Council, a Chapel Choir and Luther League. Activities in the past few months included a successful two-week Daily Vacation Bible School, purchase of a new Allen organ and the acquisition of the new hymnals now used by the majority of Lutherans.

SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS is the youngest of 117 congregations in the Pacific Southwest Synod of the United Lutheran Church. It was accepted into the Synod at the San Diego convention, where Pastor Hansen was appointed to the Public Relations Committee.

G. R. Simmons Gets Assignment In Near East

Goodrich R. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Simmons, 251 W. Montecito, left July 29 for an assignment in Iran with the Development and Resources Corp. of New York.

His primary duties will be the testing of plants to environmental conditions in the Khuzestan region.

Simmons received his elementary school training in Sierra Madre and went to college at the University of California.

He worked with the California Agricultural Extension Service in El Centro, spent six months in Ecuador with the National 4-H Club, and was in charge of the soil conservation service of Imperial County. He also was an active partner with the Simmons Brothers Farming Co. of El Centro.

KANGAROO EXHIBIT
The Los Angeles County Museum's newest habitat group—a kangaroo exhibit—will be open to the public for the first time Aug. 1 in the Museum's second floor animal hall. The exhibit features a family of four red kangaroos in a setting typical of northern New South Wales in Australia where these animals live.

Mrs. Pat Rose Plucks $5,000 from Quiz

Mrs. Pat Rose, vivacious brunette who lives at 313 N. Mountain Trail, came out $5,000 to the good last Saturday on the television quiz program, "The Big Game."

The mother of two youngsters, Mrs. Rose appeared on the program for three weeks before she was finally defeated by another contestant. This is slightly amazing, since winning on the show depends on at least 50 per cent on pure luck.

Anyhow, Mrs. Rose is $5,000 richer, minus the bite which will be taken by the Internal Revenue Service, and she is pretty happy about the whole thing.

Misleading Figures

You can't add apples and elephants, as everybody is aware, but it seems that this is exactly what many Sierra Madreans are attempting to do in their avid scrutiny of the new school budget.

Particular attention, as the letter on this page indicates, is being centered on administrative costs.

It has been pointed out by School Trustee Arthur Albertson that Sierra Madreans will be paying about twice as much on a percentage basis for administrative costs as the Los Angeles County average.

THIS IS true, but, as Mr. Albertson stated, this comparison can be misleading.

Los Angeles County contains the City of Los Angeles, Pasadena and several other large school districts. Since the tax income in big districts dwarfs ours, it follows naturally that the average percentage of the total budget spent on administrative costs would be considerably smaller than is the case in Sierra Madre.

The cost for administration here, it's true, increased a great deal in the past year. Until the recent tax increase, we didn't have enough money to hire a music teacher, let alone adequate secretarial help for the superintendent and principals.

Furthermore, according to School Board members, the Sierra Madre Elementary District could grow by possibly 600 more pupils and the cost for administration would not be increased from the amount it now is.

The facts is that Sierra Madre WILL NOT be paying more for administration than many other school districts of similar size.

A total of $24,627 is allocated in Sierra Madre for administrative costs, or 6.5 per cent of the total budget.

THERE ARE 10 other school districts in California of from 670 to 799 A.D.A. (average daily attendance) that spend more on a percentage basis for administrative costs than does Sierra Madre. (This is comparing 1956-57 figures with the proposed Sierra Madre budget for 1958-59. By this time the cost probably has risen in other districts.)

At the risk of becoming tedious, a list of 21 districts and the percentage they spend on administration follows:

Farmersville, 9.8 per cent; San Dimas, 8.3; San Clemente, 7.7; S. Kern County, 7.6; Cypress, 7.5; Adelanto, 7.4; Seal Beach, 7.1; Pleasant Valley, 7.1; San Joaquin, 7; Savannah, 6.9; Sierra Madre, 6.5; Carruthers, 6.4; Union, 6.4; Sheldon, 6.2; Ocean View, 6; Orange View, 6; Perris, 4.2; Glen Avon, 4.1; Dos Palos, 3.3; Weaver, 3, and Elk Grove, 2.1.—H.W.E.

Public Payroll Mounts

Just about eight years ago it cost around 40 billion dollars to run the whole Federal government. It's costing approximately that amount now to meet the annual payroll of 8,000,000 Federal, State and local government civilian workers plus those on the military payrolls.

One out of every eight employed persons in the U.S. is a Federal, State or local government civilian worker, according to Tax Foundation, Inc., of New York.

And, although the number of Federal civilian employees has held relatively steady at 2,250,000 over the last few years, payroll costs have risen from $785,000,000 a month to nearly a billion since 1954. (Reprinted from The Los Angeles Times.)

Letters to the Editor

SELECT MISS NEWTON

Dear Sir:
Our School Board is now faced with a thought-provoking decision: namely, the selection of head administrative personnel for our one and one-half elementary schools before the start of school in September.

This problem has arisen because of the resignation of Superintendent Lowell Jackson six weeks before the start of school, two weeks before his month's vacation, three years prior to the completion of his contract, less than one year after the signing of his four-year contract.

Some 9,000 of us will be affected by this decision of the Board.

Many of us... are concerned, and having given thought to the multiple facets inherent in the decision, have arrived at the same conclusion.

This conclusion is the hope that our School Board will draw from existing personnel at this short-notice time, and use the already proven administrative qualities of seniority principal, Betty Newton, as acting superintendent for the coming year or the coming three years.

Such a solution will allow time for:

1. Careful selection of a superintendent.
2. Careful determining as to whether it is likely that Sierra Madre will go into the Pasadena Elementary School system in the near future.

Sincerely,
Mary Toms Ward

DISAPPOINTED

Dear Sir:
I was disappointed in your coverage of the School Board meetings of July 1 and July 14.

At the meeting of July 1, Mr. Albertson, one of the two new members of the Board, questioned the proposed budget in its high administrative costs. Mr. Albertson quoted statistics secured from the county showing that our administrative costs are percentage-wise more than twice the average.

Some mistakes in last year's budget were brought to light. He had done an extensive job of research and study and the resultant discussion at the meeting was most revealing. The News did not report Mr. Albertson's most telling arguments nor facts revealed. It almost seemed to dismiss him as a laughable nuisance, a self-appointed "watchdog."

In addition to Mr. Albertson's criticisms my interest was further stimulated by a retort of Dr. Jackson's. As near as I remember his words were, "Mr. Albertson you just don't understand how budgets are made, first you make the budget, then you find the money to meet it." I determined to go to the July 14 meeting.

At the July 14 meeting the budget was left off the agenda. Since this was my primary reason for being there I left early and learned later that the budget had been discussed and voted on. Yet the discussion could be detected in the News account only by the report that Mr. Albertson had voted no on accepting the proposed budget for publication.

I saw no representative for the News at the July 14 meeting. Since our superintendent draws up the budget, writes the agenda for the School Board meetings and writes the minutes of those meetings. The only way one can see anything but his point of view is to attend the Board meetings and hear the criticisms, discussions or read about them in the News. For those that do not attend Board meetings, Mr. Albertson's protests do not exist unless the News prints them.

I repeat, I was disappointed in your coverage because I had hoped that through the News people would learn of Mr. Albertson's questions and the—to me sometimes astonishing—answers are received.

However, I do not mean to be too critical of the News. Perhaps they did not consider this an interesting news item. If so, I disagree with them. First, the use of public money is always interesting to the public. Secondly the Pasadena annexation would be affected by our budget.

Any study of the financial advantages and disadvantages of annexation with our disproportionately high and rising administrative costs would surely show that we could buy more education and less administration by joining with Pasadena.

But would this be true if our administration costs were lower? For all these reasons I hope that many people attend the August 4 public hearing of the budget and that the News reports both sides of any discussion that might take place.

Sincerely,
DOUGLAS T. WEIR

MISUNDERSTANDINGS

Dear Sir:
May I point out that readers uninformed of the history of our school system and unacquainted with the hundreds of successful alumni, of whom we have been so proud over the years, could easily draw wrong conclusions and agree that the system has been "slightly awash."

The editorial of July 24 reflects many misunderstandings of the facts. As one example, until this past year, I was never solely principal of Sierra Madre; my duties included, in addition, the supervision of all primary grades at both buildings. The superintendent was principal at Sierra Madre School and supervised the upper grades.

All serious minded administrators and teachers of whom we have had a generous share always have been concerned with curriculum development. At the same time they have striven to maintain a "happy ship."

We who have served here over the years have become accustomed also, to a "taut" one but we have realized that high morale and good teaching have gone hand in hand.

BETTY NEWTON
Principal,
Sierra Mesa School

WARM WELCOME

Dear Sir:
I am a visitor to California and your community for the second year in a row. I stayed with a friend in Arcadia but have many friends in Sierra Madre.

One day we were invited to bring our grandchildren to swim in your lovely new pool and were cordially invited to the Youth Hut activities, even though we told your fine Director, who I later learned was named Mr. Somers, that we were only visitors, he and his capable staff made us feel very welcome.

The children enjoyed the program and everything for the month we were here. Everyone was very kind and considerate and I think they are a very capable and well informed group of young people.

I commend your city manager on his choice of the caliber of young people in charge.

Thank you again for your hospitality, hope we may come again.

Gratefully yours,
Mrs. Richard Saunders

NEW CONCEPT

Dear Sir:
A new concept has sprung up in America and that is that every man has a right to work. It is a concept that any one of the over 5,000,000 victims of the Eisenhower depression will be glad to know about.

Would one of the supporters of the so called Right to Work Amendment please advise where this right may be exercised, if and when the measure passes.

This momentarily threw Lillian, since she has been caring for her vacationing grandson's well-behaved Colie in her over-the-Keepsake quarters. When the shopkeepers got wind of her canine baby-sitting, 21 of them signed a card and then had Hy deliver it in his most law-enforcing manner.

Is Lebanon to Become Another Korea?

By Robert G. Spivack

THOUGHTS ON THE MIDDLE EAST—It was 13 years ago, just about at this time, that my wife and I were driving up towards Cape Cod when we turned on the car radio. The announcer said in a solemn voice that American troops had just landed on the beaches of Normandy. It was "D-Day" and the order to attack had been given by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the man hailed everywhere as the Liberator of Europe.

Now nearly a decade and a half later the same man is President of the United States and this time he has ordered American troops into Lebanon. The decision was undoubtedly a hard one, but now hardly anyone hails like the Liberator of the Middle East. In Congress and in the United Nations there are many misgivings about the American decision and many people are asking, "What is the cause in which we may be asked to fight? Is it a worthy cause?"

IT HAS been a hard year in Washington and we are in Martha's Vineyard for a short vacation. But it's difficult to keep your mind off events in the Capital and in camped at Wrightwood, they're mapping plans for the family's annual two-week trek to Kansas. (Peggy, member of the musically talented Norris family, still works on her unique art medium—that of first carving a picture on linden wood and then painting over the carving).

Each year Peggy, husband, Dale, and children—along with Peggy's dad, N. K. Norris, head for the Midwest to visit Dale's parents. And each year they figure out a new way to go—this time by way of New Orleans (so who wants to travel direct?).

BEATS MOWING. The Eugene Colberts have the right idea—they poured a green cement lawn in the front of their Highland home.

WHO'S DELIRIOUS? Try to slip out of town for a smidge of surgery and what happens?—the doctor turns out to be from Upper Hastings and the anesthetist lives right around the corner from you.

the eastern Mediterranean no matter how badly you may need a rest. My summer plan was to invite guest columnists to take over for a few weeks and later on I shall return to this plan. But the developments abroad seemed to call for comment even though I am not on top of each fast-breaking event as I would be if I were back at the Capitol.

Sometimes, though, there is an advantage in being away from the forest in order to be able to see the trees. And the reactions of intelligent people who do not profess to be "experts" are very often more valuable than the jaded comments of those who have seen so many crises they are inclined to meet each new one with a yawn.

Against this background then let me pass on several comments I heard from people here at this island resort. Twice within an hour after the first news broadcast disclosing that the Marines had landed in Lebanon, friends asked, "What's behind it all? Is it just a scheme to get Bernard Goldfine and Sherman Adams off Page One?"

And the second comment I heard frequently, although expressed in different ways, was this:

"Is the recession so bad the government has to embark on foreign adventures in order to keep things under control?"

THE OVER-RIDING FEAR—There comments came, of course, from people with some knowledge of history. But, in my judgment, they also reflect a growing tendency to look beneath the surface and a general refusal to accept federal pronouncements at face value.

But the comment I heard most often reflected neither cynicism nor skepticism, so much as fear. A leading woman real estate agent here, who also happens to be active in Republican politics, asked:

"Is this to be another Korea?" And that, of course, is what worries many mothers.

Are we about to witness another test of strength between East and West? Is this a prelude to a bigger conflict? Or was the President wise in jumping in before Nasser and his Communist allies could do more damage to the West's position? By prompt action now was the President preventing a Middle Eastern "Munich"? And if the answer is "yes," could it turn out that this action will prevent World War III?

To all these questions it's possible only to hazard a guess. How far we are prepared to go and how far Nasser and the Russians may go is purely speculative.

***

AS WE watch this crisis develop (or vanish), these points ought to be kept in mind constantly:

1. This country, under Secretary Dulles' prodding, moved quickly only in an area where huge American oil interests are involved. Dulles, whose old law firm represents one of the world's biggest oil companies, has hardly ever moved more so rapidly.

2. The Soviet Union has much to gain and very little to lose by stirring up the fires of Arab nationalism, but Nasser's close relations with Marshall Tito must worry the Kremlin.

3. In our anxiety to stabilize the situation, we ought not to forget that there is only one firmly democratic regime in the Middle East. That, of course, is the State of Israel. There is a danger the oil companies may consider Israel "expedient" in their wishful thinking about stemming the tide of Arab nationalism.

HOW DID WE GET IN THIS TROUBLE?—No matter what happens in the Middle East there will be many questions asked Congress and elsewhere about how we got into this mess? Why wasn't the public ever told how badly the situation was deteriorating? Did the Administration make a colossal mistake in its turnabout on the Aswan Dam? Were the British, French and Israelis right two years ago when they tried to stop Nasser at Suez?

There will be many answers and all sorts of alibis. But one thing emerges clearly from the present crisis: John Foster Dulles has no plan to cope with it except to dispatch more and more American troops to the Middle East.

From Sunny Capri to Wintry New York

By Edward Lloyd Voorhees

My 15 days of rest, sun, and recuperation found me ready, even eager, to be on board the S.S. Colombo, bound for "my own, my native land!"

The afternoon preceding the Colombo's sailing I arrived in noisy, over-crowded Naples, where I did some delayed shopping for souvenirs, dined at my favorite restaurant in the comparative quiet of Piazza Martiri (Place of the Martyrs), took a walk along the sea-wall side of the well-lighted via Partenope, admiring the stately crescent that is the Bay of Naples at night, and turned in early.

AFTER BREAKFAST in my hotel room and the customary final visit to the American Express office to pick up my chance late letters, I was off early for the docks, with my two pieces of hand luggage. My conveyance there was by choice an antique open carriage, with antique horse and coachman to match, the latter put in good humor by my proffer of an American cigarette, another for his pocket, and my suggestion of "Andiamo, andiamo!" (Let us go slowly!)

Alongside the vast dock area the Colombo gleamed white and black in the sun, with her huge red, green, and white funnel at her center.

ter. Through various questions, filling out printed forms, waits and starts from bin to bin, we were gradually "processed" and eased aboard, and I was taken to my cabin.

Coming over from New York on the S.S. Andrea Doria, because of the winter's uncrowded passenger list, I had enjoyed a two-berth cabin all to myself for a single fare, Tourist Class.

But now, with a full Tourist section containing many immigrants I found myself in a four-berth cabin with three young Italians, each migrating to the U.S.A. with a definite trade, with an American citizen waiting for him as sponsor. All had seen military life and proved to be well-mannered, agreeable, neat in their habits, and considerably quiet. Two of them spoke English, and we all got along famously. It was a good chance to practice our English and Italian, and we did!

AGAIN I marvelled at the wonders of modern ship construction for safety and comfort. The "steerage" before World War I, with its packed quarters, bad air, and one small open deck had become this Tourist Class with all-metal cabins and furniture, excellent lighting, hot and cold running water, air-conditioning in each cabin controllable by an inlet above each berth as well as a central one; and fresh sea-air flowed along the main corridor and into the plentiful toilets and bath booths.

There were two large after-decks for games and other exercise, sheltered nooks for deck chairs, benches and a tiled swimming pool. There were also two inside game rooms, and a well-stocked library with desks for writing, not to mention a small bar with tables, dancing space and stringed orchestra that played morning, afternoon, and evening, and a nightly movie.

WITH THAT presence of the "mysterious" feminine of all four of us, table time never lagged! And with time never drifted by, until suddenly we sighted land one gray morning, then Madame Liberty and a lower Manhattan's unique skyline, through rain, sleet, and snow—of which I had seen so much in that "unusual" Italian winter.

Yes, New York was having a blizzard! But this was American snow, and two days later the April fields of my native Jersey, bathed in full sun, showed nary a trace of it as we sped smoothly west on my favorite railway towards home in California.

(THE END)

Lee Shippey asks What Do You Think?

Sighs Parson Jones: "Ah, what a boon
If only three men out of seven
Thought half as much of reaching Heaven
As of space-travel to the moon!"

INQUIRER WANTS to know his exams for army officer. What kind of general Tru-That's easy. He's a General jillo, as he failed to pass Nuisance.

I LIKE to think of women as spiritually far superior to us men, and therefore the balance wheels of decent conduct. But since General Nuisance Trujillo captured the Hollywood spotlight—as a sort of misleading man; so to speak—I feel a vague alarm about the discarding of standards. You might expect a bevy of B-girls from some low dive avidly to compete for the jeweled hand-outs a drunken sailor might give those who entertained him. But even they wouldn't risk what reputations they had for merely a share of the publicity.

When Trujillo's yacht anchored in San Diego Harbor a radio announcer as a gag, announced that Trujillo would give an orchid to every woman visitor, and it is reported that thousands of the dear girls put on their most fetching garments, hurried to the beauty parlor and then to the harbor, hoping that starchy-shouldered, if not starchy-eyed, playboy would invite them aboard. But they were disappointed. General Nuisance prefers to entertain ladies one at a time.

INCIDENTALLY, I believe that in correct Spanish double-l is not pronounced "y" as it is in Mexico, but "ly." That would make the proper pronunciation True-heel-yo—with the accent on the "heel."

First TV, Now Hi Fi—Will It Never End?

By Eleanor N. Wood

There was a time, within the shuddering memory of living men, when social standing in this country was, if not determined, at least heavily influenced, by the size of the TV screen the family possessed.

Probably no one ever thought the time would come when we would fondly look back on those as the good old days, but a far more pervasive badge of cultural attainment is now threatening our peace and quiet: Hi-Fi.

The sinister thing about this new threat is that it is predicated on several unproven assumptions:

1. Everyone likes music. (If anyone doesn't like music just because he would rather have serene silence he is, ipso facto, a boor.)

2. Everyone not only likes music to begin with, but the same kind. This includes the people across the street, two houses down, and that nice couple on the next corner. Why shouldn't they like music? This kind? ("Let's turn it up so they can hear this French horn and cymbal duet!")

3. If a little music soothes the savage breast, let's tame the whole forest. Rival NBC and CBS for equipment. Install woofers and tweeters under camouflaged objects: screens, plants, under sofas. Carnegie Hall is the epitome of culture, so let's recreate it in our own 12x18-foot living room.

FAMILIES USED to have to urge people, willy-nilly, into the garage, to view the symbol of prestige and success, The Car. This was awkward, for some stubborn types would not willingly go inspect the gaskets and gadgets which were intended to dazzle them.

Scientific progress has made these holdouts obsolete, too. Now the simple installation of a large box frequently shaped like two coffins stacked atop one another in the living room, obviates all that. A real Hi-Fi fan of my acquaintance has blocked the entrance to his living room with an object 8 feet long and 5 feet high, made of lacquered pine. One cannot enter the living room without skirting its formidable outlines, and the booby-trapped question, "What's that?" is inescapable. "Our new Hi-Fi!"

BUT IF HI-FI were confined to those who wanted prestige symbols or those frustrated musicians who cannot play any instrument but want the companionship of incessant sound, it would not be so inescapable.

Unlike radio, which was interrupted by galling frequency by commercials, or TV, which often made little sense unless watched, this new menace, aided and abetted by automatic equipment and long-playing records, can play unattended, but not unheard for hours.

Thus the vacuum that was once filled with thought, reading, conversation, and other participant pursuits in a household, has at last been jammed to overflowing with the Ultimate Campanion. No one with a Hi-Fi need ever sit

Scoville-Wickstrom Rites in Bethany Church

Apricot-toned polished cotton sheaths were worn by the bridal party at the 8 p.m. wedding of Shirley Pauline Wickstrom and Edwin Scoville June 28 in Bethany Church.

Attendants for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hero Wickstrom, 3170 Brandon St., carried peppermint hued carnations and ivy tied with gold ribbons.

The bride's older sister, Mrs. Albret Hiti, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Corrine Wickstrom, a younger sister, and Helen Reeves. Tia Ann Flis was flower girl.

Attending the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. James Scoville, 272 W. Grandview, was Edward Rehberg who served his long time friend as best man, and Ronald Cheroske, Raymond Rickman, Hugh son, ushers.

An ivory satin gown was worn by the bride, complemented by a pearl crown and three-quarter length veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and English ivy.

The bridegroom's ring was designed by the bride to match her own.

The groom's oldest sister, Marileen Scoville who is staff organist for Far East Broadcasting Company and residing in Manila, Philippines, tape recorded an hour's music which was played at the reception.

Following a two-week honeymoon at Lake Arrowhead, San Francisco and Oregon, the couple returned to their new home in South Pasadena.

Alfred Schwarz Visits S. Frieds

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Fried, 450 E. Laurel, and their sons, Richard and Dale, are enjoying a visit from her mother, Mrs. Alfred Schwarz of Yonkers, N. Y., who has been in Sierra Madre for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Schwarz is arriving tomorrow from the east and will join the family for another two weeks.

Toms-Rhodus Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Clark Toms, 265 Mariposa, announced the engagement of their daughter, Diane Louise, to Gary Kent Rhodus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Truman Rhodus, Sr., 407 Mariposa, at a dinner party last Saturday night with members of the immediate families in attendance.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Ascension Parochial School and John Marshall Junior High School. She will enter senior class at Pasadena High School in September.

Mr. Rhodus is a graduate of John Muir High School and is currently employed at Roess Market.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Fred Schwartz Resigns Post At Free Clinic

Fred Schwartz, co-founder with Miss Harriett G. Bird of Boston, of the Memorial Free Clinic for sick or injured animals and fowls owned by people unable to pay a veterinary, is leaving the clinic as treasurer and director after serving 17 years.

The engagement of Eleanor Sue Ann Wilfong to James Frederick Masken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Matthew Masken of Baltimore, was announced last Sunday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Crawford Wilfong.

Local Students Receive Honors

Wallace Sterling, president of Stanford University, announced 348 students received "Undergraduate Honors" for high scholastic standing during 1957-58.

Among this group which maintained a 3.5 or higher grade-point average for the fall, winter and spring quarters included Harvey Ethan Mayer, son of William Mayer, 484½ Mariposa, and Charles Rodney Day, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Day, 3770 Shadow Grove, Hastings fong, 1756 Claridge St., Arcadia. The wedding is planned for next June.

The Wilfongs have planned a luau for the first part of next month, after Sue Ann has completed summer school at UCLA, in celebration of the engagement.

Both of the young people are students at Colorado State University at Fort Collins.

The bride-elect is majoring in occupational therapy and will receive her bachelor of science degree next March. She is a member of Delta Zeta sorority and Orchesis Club and is active in campus music affairs.

Mrs. Masken, a graduate of New York University, took graduate work at Ottawa and is currently working for a master's degree in biochemistry. He holds a Rockefeller Foundation scholarship and will continue his studies toward a doctorate.

Rabbi Steckel On Vacation

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, 212 N. Lima, Sierra Madre, is on vacation. In his absence Irving Atlas, ritual chairman, will be in charge of services, which will be held as usual on Friday evening at 8:30 and on Saturday morning at 9. The Rabbi will assume conducting services with the assistance of Cantor Salo Blumenthal on Friday Sept. 5, at 8:30 p.m.

Aquacade Is Set at Arcadia Park Aug. 8-9

Swimming and dancing talent from throughout San Gabriel Valley will be featured at two performances of a colorful Aquacade at Arcadia County Park on Friday and Saturday evenings, Aug. 8 and 9.

Sponsored by the Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, the Arcadia Park Pool Aquacade will present a routine of 15 events. The show will be free and the public is urged to find seats in the bleachers by 7:30 p.m. each evening.

The presentation will have a "South Seas" theme. Preceding the Aquacade will be a demonstration of swimming and diving instruction by the Arcadia pool personnel at 8 p.m. The Aquacade will start at 8:30 p.m.

The show will open with the eruption of a volcano, followed by a dance of the Volcano God, who brings rain, a waterfall and vegetation to the uninhabited island.

Following the dance, the natives begin to return to the island. The native maidens perform a ritual dance to their "Idol."

The water acts are as follows:

1. A shallow water routine performed by beginning swimmers from Morgan Park pool of Baldwin Park.
2. A kickboard routine by intermediate swimmers from Arcadia Park pool.
3. An island duet and group number by advanced swimmers from Rosemead Park pool.

'Right-to-Work' Opposition Grows In State GOP

Growing Republican opposition to so-called "right-to-work" legislation was accelerated this week by the announced opposition of A. Ronald Button, state treasurer, to Proposition 18.

This measure, which will appear on the November ballot, already has been condemned by such California Republican leaders as Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight and Lt. Gov. Harold J. Powers.

In a statement explaining his position against the deceptively-named "right-to-work" proposition, Button said:

"California has been described as a white spot in the field of labor-management relations. Labor organizations in this state have developed leadership and conducted themselves overwhelmingly in a respectable and trustworthy manner.

"It is my feeling that enactment of Proposition 18 would be a disruptive influence in this favorable situation. I intend to vote against the measure."

'ATOMIC WORLD'

First public showing on the West Coast of "This Atomic World," a traveling exhibit from the American Museum of Atomic Energy, Oak Ridge, Tenn., opens at the California Museum of Science and Industry, Exposition Park, Thursday, Aug. 7, and will continue through Sept. 14.

W. J. Hanson Is Lutheran Pulpit Guest

The Rev. William J. Hanson, director of public relations for the new Lutheran College being built near Thousand Oaks, Calif., will be guest pastor at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.,

Rev. Hanson

Sierra Madre, at 10 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 3. Holy Communion will be served.

A native of Chicago, Pastor Hanson is married and has four children. He served St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Graettinger, Iowa, for three years before coming to California in 1952.

He was organizing pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Norwalk, serving there until May, 1958. This congregation dedicated a new 700 seat sanctuary before he left and now numbers 1,700 souls including a Sunday School of more than 900.

He is now public relations chief for the California Lutheran Educational Foundation, the agency through which five Lutheran church bodies are establishing the Lutheran Liberal Arts College west of Los Angeles, the 206 acre site is in the Conejo Valley near Thousand Oaks. Present plans call for opening the college in September, 1961.

Pastor Hanson is filling the pulpit Sunday while the pastor, the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, and family are vacationing on the "The Power of Christ." Sunday School continues at 9 a.m.

News of the Churches

Rev. Lindsay Will Return to Pulpit This Sunday

The Rev. W. Lindsay will return to the Congregational Church pulpit Sunday morning, Aug. 3, after a month's leave.

His sermon based on scripture from Ruth 1, will be "On Going On." He will base his preaching during the month of August on the Book of Ruth.

Mr. Lindsay attended the Western Pastor's School at LaForet, Colorado Springs, Colo., during July.

He will also present a junior sermonette in keeping with that church's summer policy of having the church school boys and girls attend the first part of the service with their parents in the Sanctuary.

After the sermonette they go to their respective classrooms for further study of this quarter's theme, "Personal Religious Living."

'Creative Thought' Religious Science Sermon Topic

"Your Thought Is Always Creative," one of the basic principles of Religious Science, will be the topic of the Sunday Worship services at 9:15 and 11 a.m. on Sunday, Aug. 3, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 773 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

Dr. Ethel Barnhart will discuss how changing the trend of your thinking actually produces better conditions in every aspect of daily living. Thoughts are living things and produce after their kind.

Junior Church, graded classes for children from preschool through junior high school, will meet at 9:15 and 11 a.m. Youth Fellowship activity for high school and college age group will meet at 7:30 Sunday evening.

Thursday, July 31, at 8 p.m., Dr. Barnhart will speak on the "The Power of Christ." This meeting is open to the public.

Rev. Karl M. Beilstein

Rev. Beilstein to Serve Trinity as Music Director

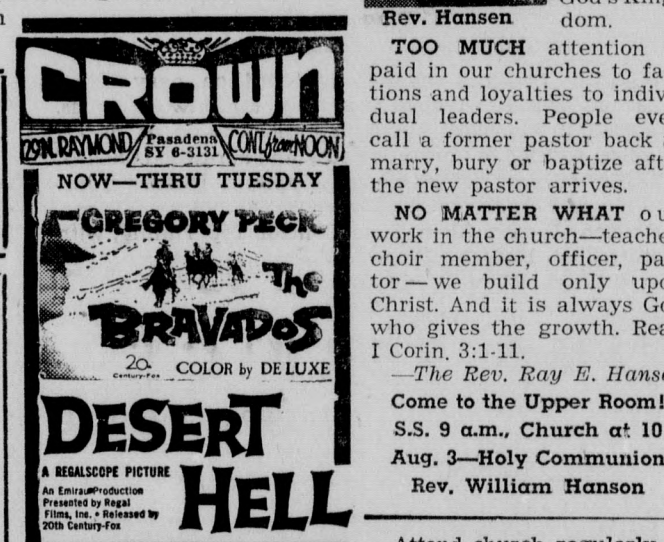

At the invitation of the Session to serve as minister of music at Trinity Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Karl M. Beilstein returns to Southern California after serving as pastor of a National Missions church in Northport, Wash.

Mr. Beilstein was active in music at Occidental College and at Pasadena College, from which he received his B.A. degree. He received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from San Francisco Theological Seminary where he was assistant to Dr. Kelley, head of the Sacred Music Department of the seminary.

His M.A. degree, with a major in music, was also earned at San Francisco Theological Seminary. He was ordained at the Glendale Presbyterian Church and has served as music and Christian education director at Roseburg, Ore. and at Redlands, Calif.

The Music Committee of Trinity Presbyterian Church is looking forward to developing a full graded choir program in the church.

Mrs. Beilstein resides with his wife and four children in Hastings Ranch.

Rev. Hanson

TOO MUCH attention is paid in our churches to factions and loyalties to individual leaders. People even call a former pastor back to marry, bury or baptize after the new pastor arrives.

NO MATTER WHAT our work in the church—teacher, choir member, officer, pastor—we build only upon Christ. And it is always God who gives the growth. Read I Corin. 3:1-11.

—The Rev. Ray E. Hansen

VILLA VIEWS

By Toni Maurin
Sycamore 7-9634

Now that the boys have hung up their gloves and Little League is officially closed for one more season, I think it's time to throw a few bouquets.

Of course, the first bouquets will go to the coaches who gave so unselfishly of their time and efforts to instruct and train our kids for the great American sport. They have taught them more than just a game. They have taught them to be good sports regardless of the outcome, to be good losers as well as a team down to the last bench warmer.

Then we throw some roses to the wives behind the coaches who were either keeping the dinner warm on the back of the stove, or were down there alongside keeping score and cheering the teams on.

I think one more bouquet might go to one mother I know who had three boys on three different teams all at different ball parks. She just turned in her driver's license.

THE GARDNER P. Wilson family of Old House Road is once more in the fold after various and sundry trips. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson returned after a perfectly glorious trip to Europe. Mr. Wilson spent six weeks over there, three on business and for the final three Mrs. Wilson joined him. They spent one week in London which was highlighted by seeing the entire royal family. Then they toured for two weeks through the English countryside, which included Scotland and Wales. Their daughter, Ann, spent the time in Oklahoma City visiting with friends and ended her trip in Fresno when she joined her sister, Wendy, who was visiting with her grandparents.

MR. AND MRS. Carl G. Warnick of Sierra Madre Villa have returned with their family from a three-week trip to the summer home at Mackinac Island on the Snake River on the border of Yellowstone National Park. Mr. Warnick's family all live in the vicinity so it was really a family reunion for her. She has gone there every summer since she was a small child. Nancy Neilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Neilson of Sierra Madre Villa, visited them while they were there.

MR. AND MRS. Ben Rogers entertained last Friday evening in the patio of their home. The guests were served barbecued fish that Mr. Rogers had caught himself. There was a wild scramble on the badminton court as the guests endeavored to exercise long unused muscles and a strangely crippled group on the hill the following morning as a result of their enthusiasm.

The guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Clingerman, Richard Pember, Ralph Paquette, Carl Moun-ter, George Clark, Ernest Maurin, Arturo Gutierrez, George Anthor, William Friedrich and Richard Schmitt.

MRS. EDWARD R. Halperin of Old House Road went all out on a Hawaiian luncheon and swimming party last Wednesday.

The guests included Mesdames John Herber, Leonard Evers, Paul Kaponya, Al Pruitt, Brooks Thomas, Howard Baker, Henry Asher, Ed. Keisner, Beppe Romers, George Moffatt, Sallie Love Baickle, Kermit Buford and E. Marshall Harris.

MR. AND MRS. Walter V. Dorn Jr. of Sierra Madre Villa bid adieu to Mrs. Dorn's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Kerns. They were visiting here from Klamath Falls, Ore., with their four children, Christopher, Daniel, Timothy and Celie. While they were here the Dorns took them to Knotts Berry Farm, Corona del Mar, Disneyland and other local sights.

THE JOSEPH Philipsons too have come home from their vacation. They took their children up to the Family Camp on the Feather Riv-

RANCH RESIDENTS are making last minute checks to make sure everything is in readiness for tomorrow night when they will take their picnic lunches and attend the annual Family Night at Hollywood Bowl.

Alpha Gams Schedule Bowl Benefit

The annual "All Gershwin Night" at Hollywood Bowl Aug. 2 will be the occasion for the Los Angeles Area Coordinating Council of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority to benefit the National Association for Crippled Children and Adults. Oscar Levant will be soloist and Andre Kostelanetz will conduct.

The benefit committee is headed by Mrs. Donald L. Valentine, Mrs. Walter Gibson and Mrs. John B. Gray. San Gabriel Valley reservations chairman, Mrs. William Grizzard, Atlantic 2-3836, has announced a bus has been chartered to transport those from this area to the Bowl.

Newly elected officers for the local chapter are Mrs. Lester Gautier, president; Mrs. Jack Novak, vice president; Mrs. Donald Craig, secretary; Mrs. Robert Morrison, treasurer, and Mrs. David Lang, press chairman.

Tri Delta Juniors Have Party

Members of Pasadena area Delta Delta Delta junior alumnae and their husbands have received invitations, in the form of a small fish, to attend the group's annual summer party Aug. 3 in the Arcadia home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Perrine.

The day's festivities will begin at 3 p.m. with swimming. A cocktail party and pool-side buffet supper will follow.

Guests will be welcomed by Mrs. John Sessions and Mrs. D. J. Reish, president of the juniors.

Mrs. Richard Briceland, party chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. William Bird, Mrs. Harold Libby and Mrs. Reish.

Father-Son Fishing Trip Saturday

A score of Hastings Ranch fathers and sons will leave Trinity Presbyterian Church at 3:30 a.m. Saturday for a trip to San Clemente and then a day on the Pacific aboard a sportfishing boat.

The early hour of departure is set so that the group may be at the San Clemente pier at 5:45 a.m. in time for breakfast before boarding the "Cyprusus."

UP ON ...

Hastings Hill

Summer in Hastings Ranch is never quiet and never dull. You spot licenses from every state in the Union on cars parked here and throughout the area because this is a season when vacationers from everywhere come to visit lucky-because-they-live-in-California relatives.

Some of the visitors will be on hand when Ranchites get together for their Hollywood Bowl family night trek Saturday night. From the enthusiasm engendered by the plan to attend the Disney deal together, it looks like we should plan lots of family nights at the Bowl.

ENA WINKLER and son, David, have returned from a week's stay with Ethel and Russ Kraus and their daughters, Stephanie and Linda. They have a home in Paradise Valley, a new district between Phoenix and Scottsdale. Ethel still has her beloved Renault which is now painted a powder blue to match their new Cadillac.

FRAN and Gordon Wright have returned from a two-week stay on Balboa Island. Speaking of Fran reminds us that she and Pat Giangre-rio DID NOT place second in Tournament 3 of the recently completed CF bridge tournament—they were third. Betty Knudson and Pat Olson are the rightful owners of second place.

THE KEN Christiansons and Hal Leffinwells also enjoyed a Balboa Island holiday.

Char Maass Celebrates 6th Birthday

Char Maass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Maass, 1185 Tropical, celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary at an "Alice in Wonderland Party."

The party theme was carried out in the guest of honor's costume, table centerpiece and cake. Each guest received an appropriate mask.

Invited guests included Eddie O'Donnell, Billy Folmer, Jim Shiner, Mary Jane Pruitt, Cheri Heimbruch, Diana Westcott, Hank Landsberg and Char's paternal grandmother, Mrs. Fred Maass of Anaheim.

Her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clara Annis of Lawrence, Kans., wasn't able to attend the party but is now in the Ranch for a three-week visit.

Local Girls Attend Camp

Mrs. Gordon S. Templar, 1220 Tropical, left last Saturday with her daughter, Gail, and six other girls for a week's stay at the Choir Camp on the Presbyterian Conference grounds, Pacific Palisades.

Other girls in the group are Susan Roberts, Jan Ostrander, Marjory Shearer, Ellen Whitely, Beth McClintock and Diana Pursley.

Recent Party To Benefit Area Charity

A "Swim, Sip and Sup" party was held at the Howard L. Cronenweth home, 1080 Riviera Dr., to benefit the Hemophilia Foundation of Southern California.

Hosts for the evening were parents of hemophilia boys in San Gabriel District. Attractive invitations, designed by Mr. Cronenweth, commercial artist, bid the guests to attend.

The pool-side party included a buffet supper and dancing to hi-fi music. Japanese lanterns and special lighting effects were used. Linda Cronenweth, 17, painted black, white and gold Japanese panels, which were sold immediately, to decorate the walls of the garage which was used for dancing.

Among the 90 in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tampico, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Heiman, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Gnagis, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Livingston and guests from Corona del Mar, Balboa and San Fernando Valley.

Honored guest was Dr. Madeleine Fallon, well known hematologist and president of the foundation.

All of the food was donated, some by local merchants, and the evening netted the group $300.

Mr. Cronenweth is a member of the foundation's board of directors and is chairman of the San Gabriel Valley District. The Cronenweth son, Robert, 13, is a hemophiliac.

It is the local district's aim to form a women's auxiliary to plan special events to raise funds for care, treatment and research in hemophilia. Those interested in this project should call Mrs. Cronenweth at ELgin 5-6849.

Glorig Family Returns to Ranch

Mr. and Mrs. James O. Glorig, 1075 Coronet and their daughter, Lynn, returned this week from a month's holiday.

Part of their time was spent with his sister and brother-in-law, the David Trelanders, in their Montgomery, Ala., home. They also visited friends and relatives in El Paso, Dallas and New Orleans.

While in Alabama they were guests of Col. and Mrs. Wells Gibbs, former Ranch residents now making their home in Huntsville, and daughter, Diane.

CALTECH VISITORS

More than 4,500 visitors toured the campus and laboratories of the California Institute of Technology during the 1957-58 academic year, it has been announced by the Institute News Bureau. To this number can be added the approximate 1,200 invited high school students who participated in Students' Day

Field Board Planning for Fall Semester

Plans for the Eugene Field PTA program for the year are shaping up under the guidance of the organization's new president, Mrs. Samuel I. Joseph, and the vice president and program chairman, Mrs. Joseph Cummins.

Mrs. Joseph has called several board meetings during which arrangements were begun on various school activities. As usual, the opening day coffee in the cafeteria is planned to give mothers a chance to meet new and old friends at the beginning of the school year.

Ranchettes

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Laub, 1435 Daveric, are the parents of twins, John Kyle and David McDonald, born June 18 at Huntington Memorial Hospital, weighing 5 pounds, 8½ ounces and 5 pounds, 11 ounces. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. McDonald of San Francisco. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Laub of Las Vegas, Nev. The other Laub children are Bill, 7; Andy, 5½, and Mary, 3.

A son, David Hadley, born April 9, arrived at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Hadley W. Ford, 1445 Daveric, July 9. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Lora L. McKie of Seattle, Wash. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Ford of Gregory, S.D.

Numbers to Call For Ranch News

Equatorial Forest New Feature of San Diego Zoo

The enchantment of an auto trip for fun in Southern California is that a short drive takes you to far-off adventures—such as a North Pole reindeer sleigh, an oceanic meeting with whales and porpoises, or a trek through a sub-tropical jungle.

This last encounter, in a lush equatorial forest, is the big new feature of San Diego Zoo, where there is a rash of developments designed to put before your eyes animals from throughout the world—without intervening bars or wires.

The Zoo's sub-tropical forest is enclosed in a cage 80 feet wide, 115 feet long and 95 feet high, with an arrangement of watch and photograph the collection of rare birds without the hindrance of a wire mesh before the eyes.

Ramps leading through the enclosure wind past a brook with pools and waterfalls. And everywhere there are the most beautiful birds found upon the globe. Nearby is a range for marsupials, from wombats to kangaroos, and there are no bars to obstruct the view; moats and from spectators. Another barless wireless enclosure houses deer, antelope and zebras.

Additional facilities have been provided for seals, chimpanzees and penguins. Installing a pool in Wegforth Bowl and elevating the stage three feet have improved the animal shows greatly. A short drive to the Zoo is an easy way of becoming a well-traveled person.

SMALL GIRLS with big smiles held the limelight at Santa's Village, near Lake Arrowhead, July 26, with a doll buggy parade and a fashion show which must have made the grownups envious. The parade consisted of doll buggies decorated by children under 10 to look like floats. The fashion show consisted of girls dressed exactly like the dolls they were carrying. Some mothers hinted they had trouble seeing double.

SO MUCH corn comes out of Hollywood—how can you tell one kind from another? Well, here's the word from some folks who should know, the Harold Gilbert family of Farmers Market. They say very early corn with small white kernels is tenderest. Most popular is the medium ear, also very tender and juicy. The ripe, fully mature ear is best for barbecuing. It has the best flavor and taste because its sugar content is fully developed. And that's Hollywood's best corn.

AT FOREST LAWN Memorial Park in nearby Glendale, one light burns all night and has been on constantly for more than 30 years. It is the light on Edith Barrett Parson's bronze statue of a small child holding two baby ducks under its arms.

Forest Lawn's founder, Dr. Hubert Eaton, in 1916 read a magazine poem about tears being in the baby ducks' eyes because "the lights had gone out—never to come on again," at the closing of the San Francisco World's Fair, where the statue was then located. Dr. Eaton went to San Francisco, bought the statue for Forest Lawn and installed the ever-burning light.

HERE'S A NEW way to valleys separate the animals pick the winners at Hollywood Park in Inglewood. Hunt Albert, a salesman of bottled water, made his first horse wager on Challeon in 1940 because the horse used his brand of bottled water. Only this year Albert made his second bet—and for the same reason. Both horses won their races and Albert is convinced he is selling the right brand.

MR. AND MRS. E. C. Hilton of Fullerton spent part of their 62nd wedding anniversary strolling through the general store in the Ghost Town at Knotts Berry Farm in Buena Park. The reason—Mrs. Hilton bought the material for her wedding gown from the same store when it was in its original setting in Santa Barbara in 1896. The store and merchandise later were bought by Walter Knott and moved to his berry farm.

THE LATEST problem at Marineland is whales being nipped on the tails. Who is responsible for this skulduggery? Two speedy Pacific striped dolphins, Elsie and Polly. They often bite the whales because they feel that the larger mammals are getting more than their share of the food. The whales, Bubbles and Squirt, try to retaliate, but the dolphins are too elusive. That's the tales of the whales.

Truth may be mighty—but a great deal of it is suppressed.

The man who doesn't think right can't be expected to live right.

HERE'S HOW WE "SPEND" FOUR MILLION DOLLARS . . .

One of the biggest costs in providing your telephone service is our annual tax bill. It amounts to twice the sum we pay in dividends to our 13,000 stockholders.

BUT, these taxes do buy something. The $2,000,000 we paid last year in local, county, and state taxes helped pay for local schools, roads, hospitals, police and fire protection and many other civic improvements and services in the areas we serve.

An additional $2,000,000 paid in Federal taxes helps pay for a host of essential services which benefit us all.

Community progress depends on sufficient tax revenues to finance essential services. We play a major role in civic progress through the substantial taxes we pay—and the communications service we render.

Garden Notes . . .

Hanging Plants Now At Height of Popularity

The art of hanging a plant overhead and letting its blooms cascade is not a new one. It was practiced to perfection in Babylon where the Hanging Gardens were to become a wonder of the ancient world. Yet never in history has the art had a more universal appeal.

In California nurseries, especially, are to be found a wide variety of plants adapted to hanging basket culture. Some provide evergreen foliage that is useful the year round, as well as during their bloom periods.

The big three of hanging basket culture in our state are the Trailing Ivy Geraniums (Pelargonium Peltatum), Tuberous Begonias and Fuchsias. The latter two are sometimes neglected in interior valleys because of their reputed aversion to heat. Give them filtered sun, shade during the hottest part of the day, plenty of water, especially on their leaves, and their normal requirements of feed, and they will do well in all but the desert areas. In the cooler north coastal areas, they will take full sun.

DON'T LIMIT your hanging gardens to the big three, however. Try the annual Lobelia (L. Erinus) with Torenia, Begonia or Geraniums for a fine contrast of color. Nasturtiums and Petunias are other standbys for annual culture.

Among the perennials, the succulent Sedum Sieboldi is hard to beat. It gives rose-hued blooms in late summer and early fall plus a bonus of reddish foliage for autumn color.

You may find baskets of tender Lotus Bertholetii in nurseries near coastal areas this month. And don't overlook the Campanulas. Campanula Isophylla with its star-like blooms of light blue or white (var: Alba) is an old favorite for hanging baskets. Campanula Garganica, the trailing miniature, seems as much at home in a basket as it does in the rock garden. Whatever your plans for hanging new color in your yard, start now. If you plan to start your own, a trip to the nursery will give you an idea of what you can plant to make your future hanging gardens a success.

When watering, remember that plants in either clay or wood containers will dry out

Pickles, Preserves Are Tasty, Easy to Prepare

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

Mrs. Harold (La Verne) Goodfellow, 585 Ramona, is another person like myself who loves to can and preserve. She gave me three recipes of pickles and relish as there is virtually no home grown fruit to put up this year.

In all of her recipes she speaks of the jars and glasses that are to be used. It is always important to sterilize all containers before using them. The best way to accomplish this task with a minimum of effort is to wash well in hot sudsy water, rinse, and invert the containers in the oven at about 200°F. This way they are hot and sterile at the time you want to use them.

GREEN PEPPER RELISH

12 medium size green peppers
1 1/2 cups cider vinegar
1 bottle liquid pectin
7 cups sugar
1 tsp. powdered tumeric
10 drops green food coloring

Remove seeds and stems from green peppers and put the meat through a food chopper using fine blade. Press in a fine sieve to remove juice. Measure 2 cups green pepper into a large deep pan. Add sugar, vinegar and tumeric, mixing well. Place over high heat and bring to full rolling boil. Let boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; stir in pectin immediately. Skim off foam with a metal spoon. Stir and skim for about five more minutes. Add food coloring and seal immediately. Yields about 10 6-ounce jars or glasses.

TOMATO PRESERVES

6 lbs. tomatoes
1 lemon
Sugar

Pour boiling water over fine ripe tomatoes. Let stand one minute, drain, dash into cold water and rub off skins.

Boil tomatoes and lemon, sliced very thin, together for one hour. Add 1 cup sugar to 1 cup cooked tomatoes and simmer for an additional hour. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal immediately.

THE NEXT recipe came to be one of her favorites and it is fool proof. It will please anyone who doesn't want to go through the labor of putting up pickles.

SWEET SPICED PICKLES

1 gallon of commercially prepared dill or Kosher pickle slices or sticks drained
12 cups sugar
4 tbs. whole pickling spice (1 small box Schilling's)
4 cups red vinegar

In a large pan mix together the spices, sugar and vinegar. Bring to a full rolling boil. Pour over pickles that have previously been packed in sterilized jars. Seal and allow to stand for three days before serving. Yields about 11 or 12 pints.

This makes a heavy syrup and a deliciously different pickle. The beauty of the syrup is that it can be saved and used over and over again by reboiling. How easy can it be?

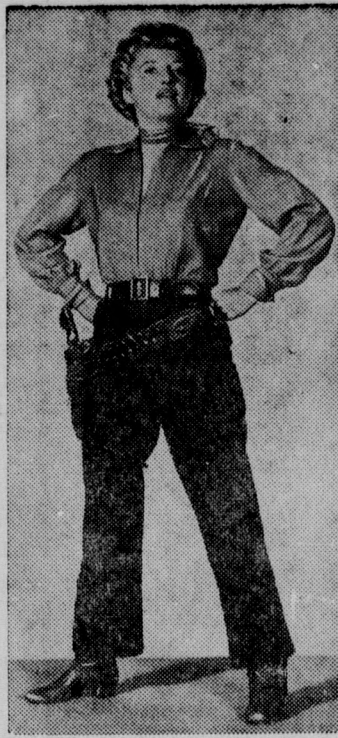

She makes the green pepper and the tomato preserves to give as Christmas gifts. They make an attractive holiday package as well as colorful and palatable combinations to serve with turkey.

THE GOODFELLOWS joined our community just three years ago and have been busy people since their arrival. They bought a home here and have been redecorating and rebuilding since they have owned it. They both have more ideas than time to accomplish them.

Mr. Goodfellow is a perfectionist and an excellent craftsman in almost any building endeavor he attempts. Two years ago, La Verne decided that they should have some Christmas decorations outside, so she set about to make a plywood Santa and sled and his reindeer. They got so carried away with the project, they strung it across the lawn and lit it up. They were completely unaware of the fact

2,919,000 Fish—by Actual Count

By Al Miyadi

Horse players are a cynical bunch. Especially the losers. I'm both.

Maybe that's why I have a clinical distrust for figures—even the 40-inch sweater-stretchers.

Anyhow, a friend of mine calls me Sunday night. Been deep sea fishing, he says. Like myself, he's a hoss-player, too, but a fine fellow. And, of course, chronically dishonest.

"So," I say, "How'd you do?"

"Well," he says, "Got me six barracuda and two yellowtail."

I DON'T tell him what I think, of course. I just hang up.

But later that night, I buzz the landings.

Sensational, they say. "Anything new?" I ask.

No, they say, only sensational. Boy, I think, fishing must be lousy—it's been sensational for the last 10 weeks.

"Gimme a count," I ask. They give me some very enthusiastic figures.

"Interesting," muses my wife, who is even more cynical than I (as all wives married to hoss-players tend to be).

"Bring out the adding machine," she says. I hustle quickly. In addition to being very cynical, she has a very good left hook.

WHAT A WIFE. I think to myself—mother of my children, fine cook, bodyguard, and statistician.

"Interesting," she says. "Very." See what I mean? She is a very sincerely cynical person.

She hands me the total figures and I hands her the Racing Form.

Anyway, the fishing report for July 12 from only 11 landings: 29,190. Multiplied by 100 fishing days: 2,919,000.

From only 11 landings! Naturally, I am very much impressed. Also, being a true conservationist, I am worried.

But my wife, she is also a mind-reader. "It's a big ocean, honey," she says.

"Gee," I say, overwhelmed with relief and genuine awe twisting my face, "I never thought of that."

"Honey," says my wife, who is also a very sweet person, "Before you go to bed, do me a favor?"

"Baby," I say, "You name it!"

"Open me a can of beans."

ON THE FRESH-AIR front, deep sea fishing, obviously, is on the improve . . . San Diego really sizzling now with yellowtail and albacore . . . total longfins thus far: 4,000 plus.

Locally, Santa Monica Bay is stand-out with big bonito schools mixing it up with barracuda . . . to 14 pounds . . . also some white sea bass . . . other goodies: barracuda taken last week off

Cabrillo breakwater by perch fisherman, another fine fellow nailed a small yellowtail off rocks below Marineland . . . hottest surf spot is around Seal Beach pier as anglers continue to take lots of corbina and spotfin croaker on bloodworms . . . perch fishing generally is lousy.

Of lakes and flowers, June Lake sizzling on small trout but Lake Crowley very slow . . . for the catfish set, Colorado River currently hotter than a vicuna hunt.
